To Whom it may concern,

Patricia Vasconcellos recently worked with us on a project to translate our English website content into Portuguese. I would like to highly commend Patricia for her work with us on this project.

From the very beginning of communications, Patricia was very quick to reply and also delivered very high quality work on time. She met every target that was agreed and often even surpassed it by completing more work in the same timeframe. Throughout the project Patricia would have an excellent eye for detail and was very helpful in suggesting ways to improve the translations.

The main tasks that she undertook during this project were;

- Text translations from English to Portuguese - reading through the original English text and rephrasing into Portuguese to read more naturally.
- Proofreading other Portuguese translations to advise any issues and correct errors where needed.

I have no hesitation in highly recommending Patricia to any future potential customer needing prompt, accurate, well delivered Portuguese translations or proofreading.

Thanks once again for your invaluable help Patricia.

Best regards
